

Dynamic Wildlife Management On any Size Forest

Nicole Strong

nicole.strong@oregonstate.edu

<http://extension.oregonstate.edu/mwm/>

<http://twitter.com/ormwm>

What Are We Going to Talk About?

- Setting the Stage
- Our Family Forest Owners
- What family forest owners are doing
- How you can (+ why you should) work with family forest owners

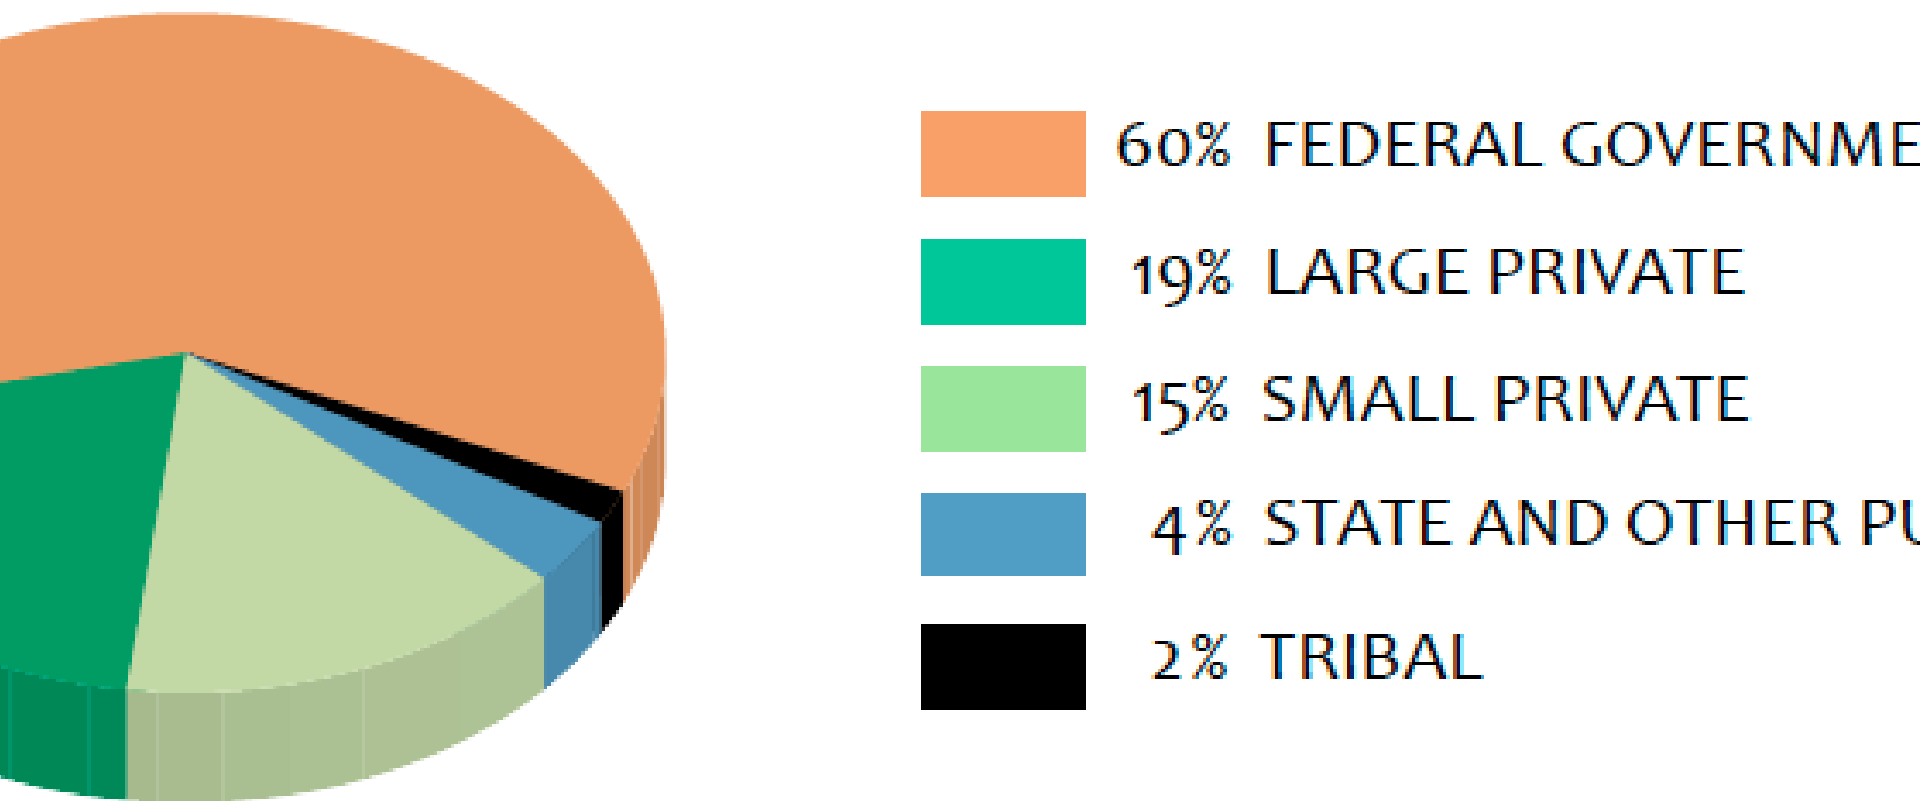

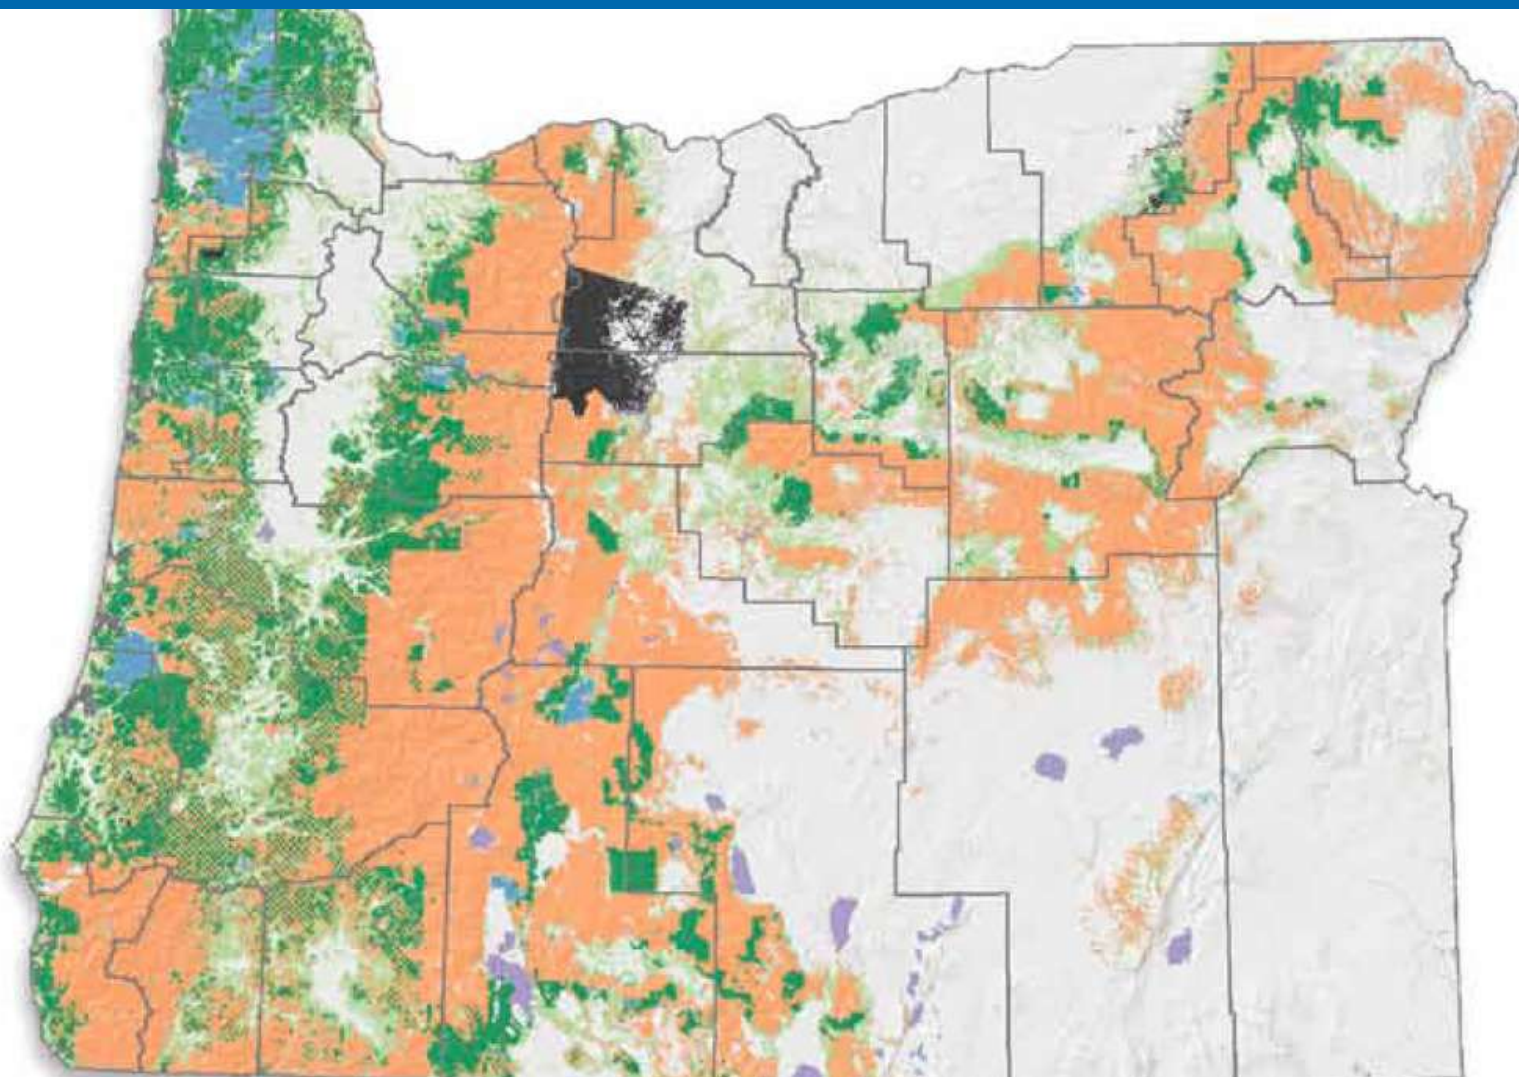

“A Technician is a man who comes out to your ranch and tells you things you knew before, in terms you cant understand”

Reub Long (1898-1974),
Christmas Valley Rancher

FORESTLAND BY OWNER (AS PERCENTAGES)⁽¹⁾

FORESTLAND OWNERSHIP⁽¹⁷⁾

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

LARGE PRIVATE

SMALL PRIVATE

STATE AND OTHER PUBLIC

TRIBAL

What are your Objectives?

“Leave a Legacy for my children and grandchildren.”

“Keep Learning.”

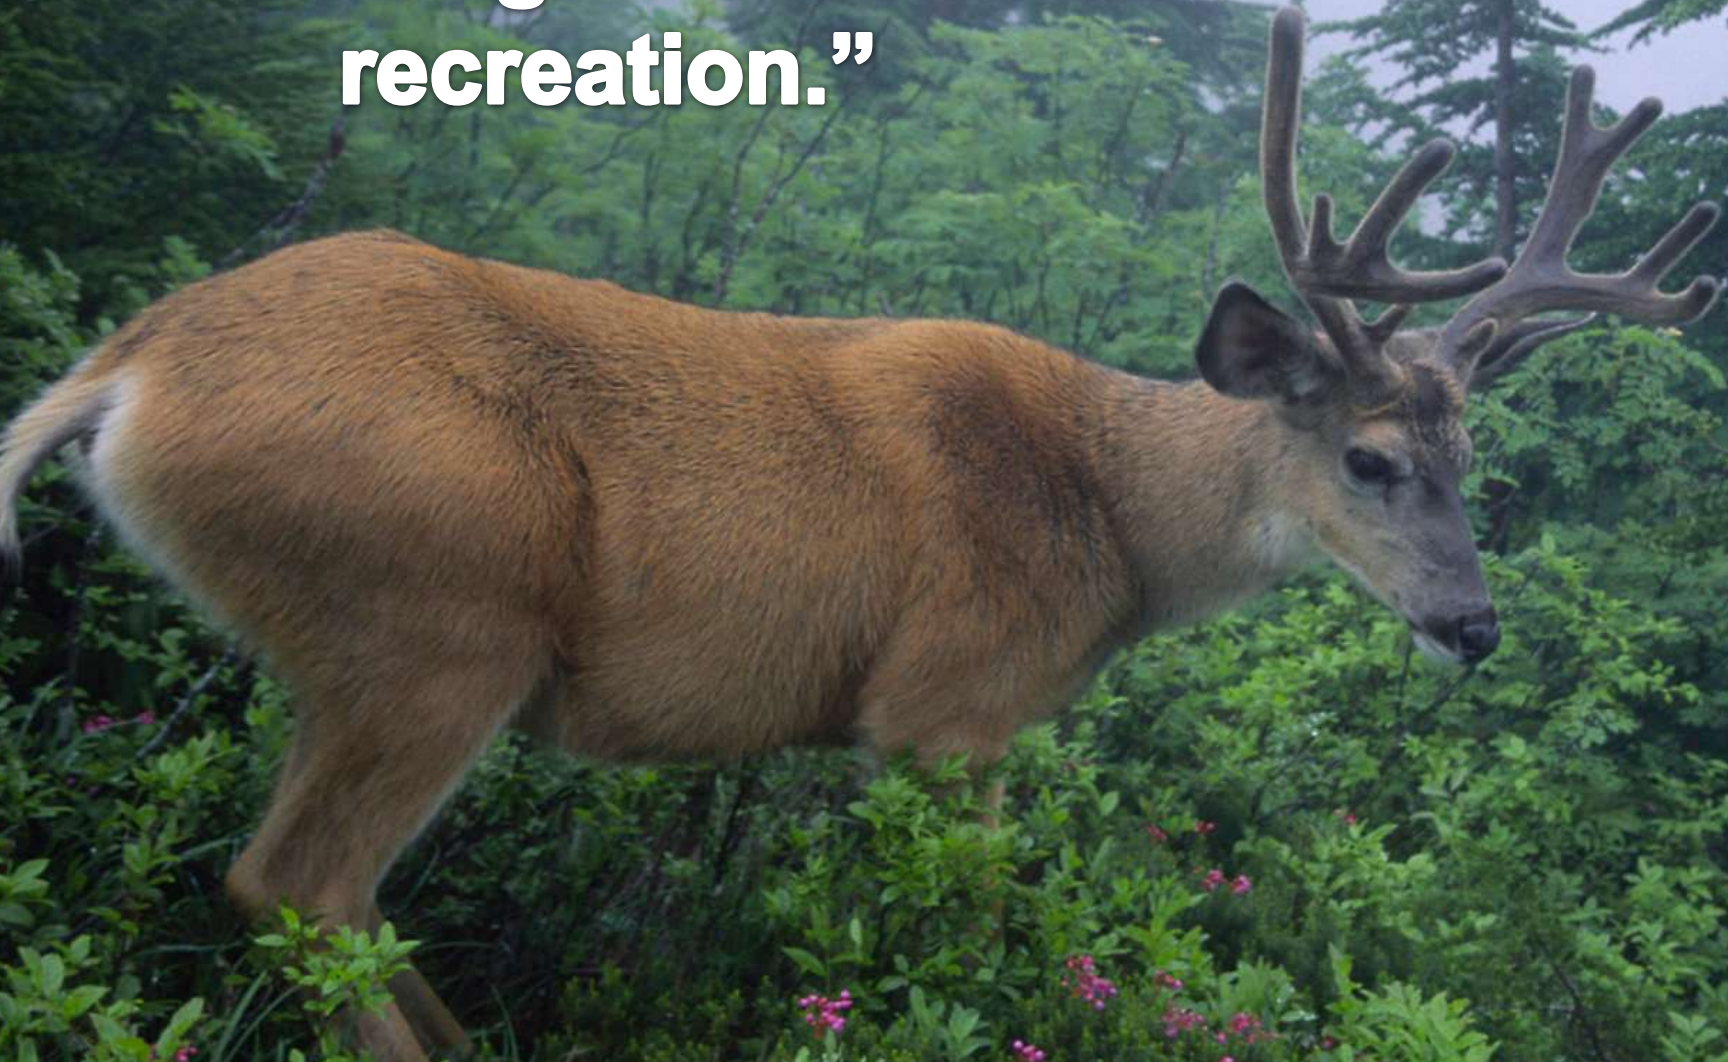

“A healthy forest that is resilient to fire.”

“I want to make enough [money] to pay taxes, and maybe a little left over.”

“A place where my family can enjoy hunting and other recreation.”

What are Family Forestland Owners Doing for Wildlife?

Erradicating Invasives!

Photo: Stilly-Snohomish Fisheries Enhancement Task Force

Creating Snags

Leaving Down Wood

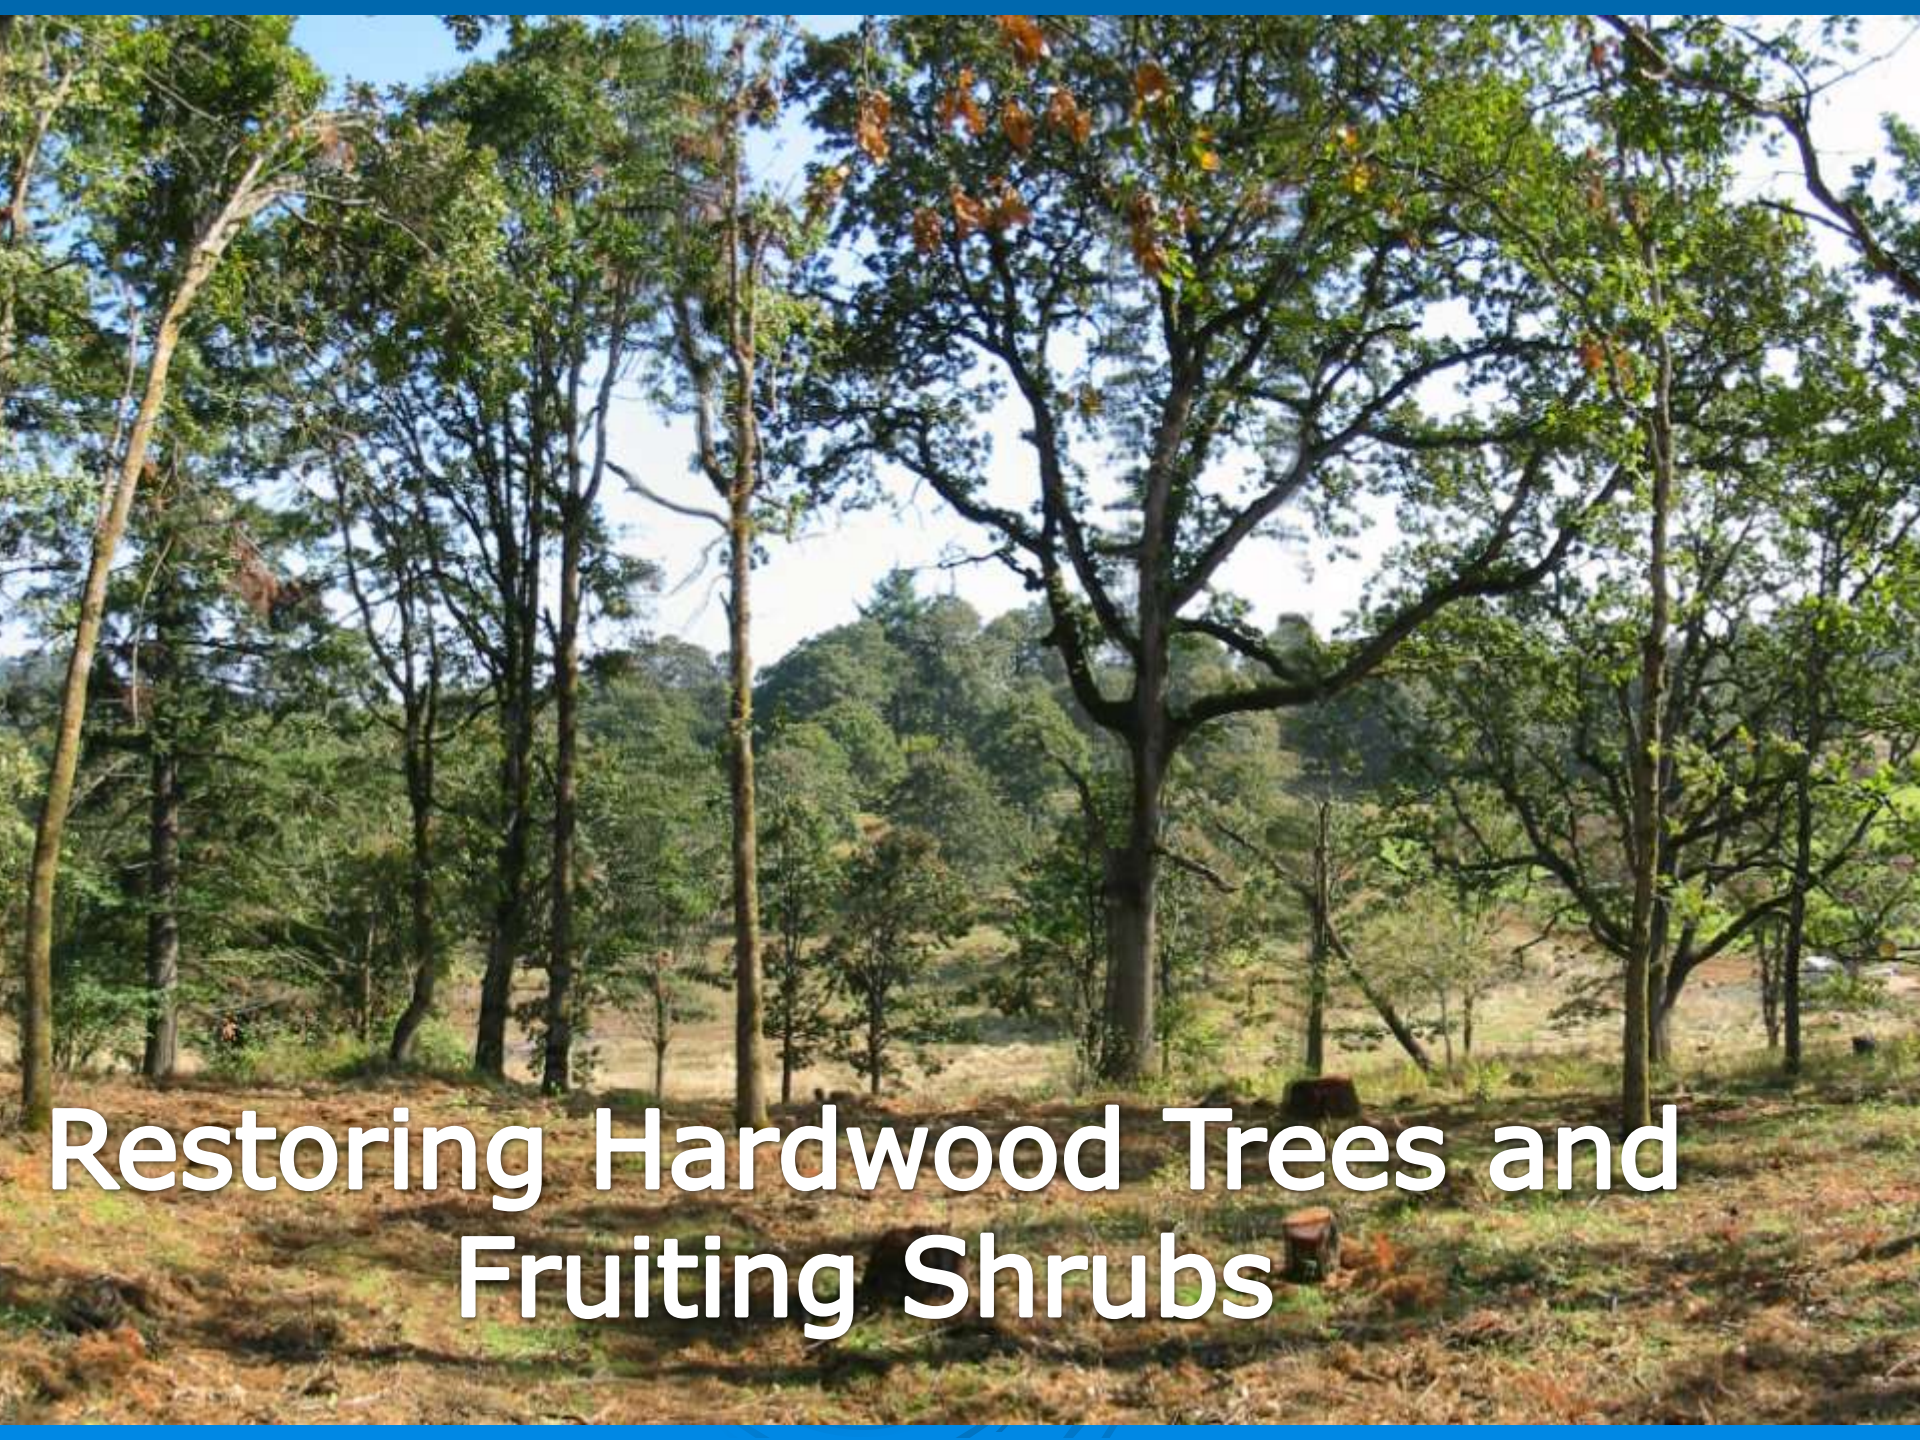

Creating boxes

Replacing Culverts

Restoring Hardwood Trees and Fruiting Shrubs

Restoring Aspen

Managing Grazing

Monitoring

Sharing their Experiences

Research and Demonstration

Working with Children

Wildlife... just one element
of biodiversity

